Let us pray.

Heavenly father we turn to you now and praise your name for this opportunity that has come to us once more, the opportunity to worship your name. We offer you thanks for the blessings you bestow upon us and for coming so close to us in your son Jesus, Lord of all that we have and all that shall be ours. May we bring glory to his name through all that we say and all that we do.

Lord inspire us to face all the challenges of our current era without burying our heads in the sand but also help us to never forget it is today, at this very moment in time you want us to contribute and hope and never loose heart.

‘Oh Jesus I have promised to follow to the end, be thou forever near me, my master and my friend.’

We bring before you now all those who are suffering within our community and our world. We offer thanks for all those within the medical profession, all those at home and all those who care for others and follow the example of those who gave everything for others on a cross and continues to give.

‘Blessed assurance Jesus is mine,
O what a foretaste of glory divine.’

We pray also for each one who have experienced bereavement. May they always remember that the positive influence of their loved ones will always remain with them and inspire them and nothing can separate us from the all embracing love of Jesus.

In an up wrought world may peace prevail and may we strive to establish peace within our homes, communities and worldwide.

This we ask in the name which is above all other names, Jesus. Amen.

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS:

- 1) Do we focus enough on examples of hope and success within the life of the Church?
- 2) Has faith sustained and inspired you amidst lifes storms?
